

We are here, singing this song

We are here, singing this song.
As human beings, it took us long.
From Big Bang, through chain of life,
Plants, animals, people, still we strive:
Understand each other, live in peace,
hooking up, respect fellow men peculiarities.
Let us set off, bundle our energy,
across all borders, for our planet to be.

We are here, singing this song.
As intercultural choir, our voices are strong.
Aiming to make hearts and souls sing,
joint responsibilities, for the coming ring.
Generations of lives, on mainland and in sea,
Enough has been discussed, now we act.
Let us set off, bundle our energy,
Across all borders, for our planet to be.

We are here, singing this song.
Being sons and fathers, our voices are strong.
Hoping our message being heard better and better.
Beyond all particularities, let us stand together:
Building bridges instead of walls,
Open doors and windows, take curtain calls.
Let us set off, bundle our energy,
Across all borders, for our planet to be.
